

Service Signs

The blue color of these signs indicates that they provide direction to motorist service facilities. Word message signs generally are used to direct motorists to areas where service stations, restaurants, and motels are available. Logo signs are optional.

Signs in Construction Areas

The color orange has a special use. It appears on signs and barricades in construction and maintenance areas as a constant warning to motorists of possible dangers.

